UPREME COURT JUDGE PECKHAM PASSES AWAY

fused All Invitations to Speak and Gave Time Exclusively to Duties of Office.

LBANY, N. Y., Oct. 25.—Rufus W. kham, associate justice of the Uni- States supreme court, died at o'clock Sunday night at Cool- re, his summer home, at Altamont, ny county. Death was due to a plication of diseases, heart trou- Bright's disease and hardening of arteries contributing. Justice kham had been in ill health for time, but his condition was not idered serious until recently. Fol- ng adjournment of the May term he United States supreme court ame on from Washington, with Peckham, to spend the summer Altamont, expecting to return for beginning of the October term. A days ago his condition became that his physicians said he was y to die at any time, or might r for several months. Up to a days ago Justice Peckham exhibit- considerable strength and was able about the house. The circulatory rbance, which contributed to his h, was first noticed about six s ago.

Judge Peckham's Career.

ashington, Oct. 25.—The announce- t of the death of Justice Peckham, e expected, came as a shock to associates on the bench and in ial circles, and everywhere ex- sions of regret were heard.

stice Peckham was a Democrat, before taking a seat on the bench, considerable attention to poli- in New York. He was born in ny, New York, November 8, 1838, had been on the bench, State and eral, for twenty-six years. He came from the court of appeals of his native State, a position which his father before him had occupied.

Mr. Peckham's first office was that of district attorney for Albany county. He was elected to that position in 1868. He afterwards became in succession corporation counsel for the city of Albany, member of the supreme court of the State and associate justice of the State court of appeals. He was the last of President Cleveland's Democratic appointees to the Federal supreme court, Chief Justice Fuller and Justice White being the other two. He took his seat in January, 1896.

His chief distinction was that of giving his time exclusively to the duties of the court. He acepted no outside appointments and undertook no work not connected with the high tribunal of which he was a member. He was in constant attendance on the court, and he gave the most careful attention to all matters before it. He was married, but went little into society. Unlike others of the justices, he accepted no invitation to public functions, and made no public addresses after taking his seat as a justice.

Cases involving the rights of corporations received especial consideration at Justice Peckham's hands, and he was the author of some of the court's most noteworthy opinions of recent date along this line. Among them may be mentioned the case of the Consolidated Gas Company of New York, in which he held that while rates fixed by the Legislature must allow a fair return on investments, Federal courts could not interfere to declare them invalid, unless they were so unreasonably low as to be confiscatory. One result of that decision was to cause the return of several million dollars to consumers of gas in New York City.

Several of Mr. Peckham's corporation decisions dealt with the Sherman anti-trust law as applied to railroads. These included the joint traffic and the trans-Missouri cases, in both of which he held the law to be applicable. He also prepared and delivered the opinion of the court in the case of Attorney-General Young of Minnesota, in which it was held that the Federal courts could not interfere with the execution of the State courts of an unconstitutional State law.

Judge Peckham's bearing was distinguished, and his manner affable. His hair and mustache were snow white, and his hair longer than hair is usually worn. His features were clean-cut. Altogether his bearing and appearance were those of high breeding, and he would have attracted attention in any assemblage. He was an agreeable and entertaining conversationalist and highly popular with his associates.

While none of the officials now here would discuss the probable successor to Justice Peckham, each declaring that it would be a violation of the proprieties, the names of Frederick N. Judson of St. Louis; former Secretary of War Luke E. Wright; the present Secretary, J. M. Dickinson; Henry M. Hoyt, counselor for the State Department, and solicitor-general in the Roosevelt administration, and Solicitor-General Bowers have been prominently mentioned.

Although there is no rule to govern the appointment, the vacancy on the bench, by precedent, likely will go to a Democrat. In this event, Hoyt and Bowers would be eliminated. No action in the matter will be taken, however, until after Mr. Taft's return from his tour through the country.

lleged Attempt of Kelley and Davidson to Escape

ews was received in this city Sun- of an attempt at jail delivery in tka during last week by Messrs. ey and Davidson, and that the par- had nearly effected their escape n they were discovered.

rom what could be learned it was ed that an old negro woman had ed some saws into the jail to Kel- and Davidson and that they had aged to saw out of the cells and e in the corridors at work when jailor discovered them and placed n again in the cells for safe keep-he jailor was furnished with the information by a negro trusty, who was on the premises, and it is stated that had it not been for his timely warning they would have made their escape.

Extra percautions have now been taken for their confinement until some disposition is made of their case.

The information concerning the attempted escape was very meagre, and came to Clerk S. H. Wienges through a letter from a friend living in Palatka.

A little want ad. will accomplish big results.

nvention That Will Save Millions to Railroads

POKANE, Wash., Oct. 25.—What eclared will be a big factor in ding boilers for locomotives and millions of dollars annually to railroads is a non-leakable flue invented by Charles S. Coleman, teran railroad man of Spokane.

he device consists of a steel point, inches in length, which is welded the boiler, making the joint in- instead of outside, as at present. rating department officials of s in the Northwest say that the nt cost of repairs and new work, to leaky flues, amount to from $1,- to $2,000 a locomotive a year, or from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 a year in United States and Canada, adding also that three months a locomotive will run until its flues must be repaired, and from that time the added cost of each trip is from $3 to $10.

Coleman has been a boilermaker-machinist, and is now a fireman. He was one of the crew that carried President U. S. Grant and Henry Villard over the Missouri division of the Northern Pacific railway to the point in Montana where the golden spike was driven to hold the rail connection of the eastern and western portions of the road.

MADE THE ROUND TRIP.

Tampa and Gainesville Party Visited Jacksonville Sunday.

The Tampa automobilists, who were joined by a party from Gainesville on Sunday morning, made the round trip there during Sunday, having went over in five hours, while it consumed six hours to return, the time being taken up in a thorough inspection of the roads.

The final decision in reference to the route for the endurance race to be run from Tampa to Jacksonville will be decided tonight in Tampa, and a party representing the Gainesville Automobile Club will visit the Cigar City to attend the meeting.

Should Gainesville be selected as the official route it will prove of much benefit to the city and county in later years, for it will then be the established route, and only a few years will elapse before hard roads will line its entire length. Besides, it would be the means of a large number of people who come here from the North with their machines spending some time in Gainesville.

All of the autoists of the city are enthusiastic over the route and will use every effort to have Gainesville selected, for it seems that this city has made the best proposition and is the shortest route.

REMOVAL OF DUTY DEPOPULATES TOWN.

HASTINGS, Me., Oct. 25.—The removal of the duty on denatured alcohol has resulted in the practical abandonment of this village. Since the chief industry of the town has been made unprofitable by the lifting of the duty on the raw product, most of the citizens who were given employment at the plant have quitted the place, and it has now become a "deserted village." The school and stores are unoccupied, and the only inhabitants are a few lumbermen. The village is on the edge of a big wilderness in Oxford county, near the New Hampshire line.

PRICE OF COTTON IS CAUSE OF MUCH WORRY

If Manufacturers Have to Pay 14 Cents for Cotton Many Mills Will Shut Down.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The cotton goods market shows somewhat better demand, but improvement has not progressed as yet to the extent of altering the view of the trade as to the necessity for curtailment. The most conspicuous activity is in print cloth yarn goods. It is estimated from the results of the past week that about 2-3 in number of the large distributing concerns of the country have followed the advance, making large purchases at the highest level, and some even made offers at advance, making large contracts. There are other concerns, however, including some of the most prominent and best managed in the Western distributing trade, that have not taken part actively on the higher price range, so it cannot be said that sentiment is all one way. Prominent selling agents state that mills representing fully 10,000,000 spindles have already agreed to suspend operations for 224 working hours between now and the end of the cotton year. Instructions have been sent to the best managed mills in the South making coarse yarn products to close the plants as rapidly as contracts run out, and to keep them closed until there is a certainty of being able to manufacture goods that show a profit at the time of production. One of the largest of the South Carolina mills closed Saturday. Taking the market as a whole, buyers are not yet ready to operate much at a price above a basis of 12 cents for cotton and merchants see no warrant for advising mills that better prices can be obtained in the near future. Apparently cotton speculation must run its course, or mills must take the chance of accumulating clothe from 14-cent cotton to be sold on a basis of 12 cents.

The Economical Value of Pecans As Shade Trees

Editor Sun: In traveling over the State I have observed that almost every farmer has from 10 to 150 shade trees around the barn, yard and along the public roads. They usually consist of oak, wild cherry, sweet gum, chinaberry and other trees, all worthless except for shade. It is very commendable in the farmers and very refreshing to the traveler to see plenty of shade trees around the home and to see both sides of the public roads lined with shade trees. Nothing adds more to the beauty and comfort of the home and the general appearance of the country.

But why not plant trees for shade that have great economic value as well as being as good for shade as the above-named trees?

The pecan tree is a beautiful and symmetrical tree. It is as hardy and free from disease as the oak, and I believe will live longer than any of the above-named trees. The pecan grows in almost any soil in the Southern States and is the most valuable tree for its fruit products that is known in this country. There are single trees in this section of Florida which produce annually from $50 to $100 worth of nuts. A half dozen trees planted around the back yard and barn would in ten years pay the taxes and buy flour for the family every year thereafter.

I know of no investment that equals money and care invested in a few pecan trees. Most men insure their lives for the benefit of their families after they are dead. They have to wait ten, twenty, or more years and then have to die to win, besides their policy is a continual, heavy expense all the time. But money invested in pecan trees beats life insurance. The first cost of $1 per tree for the best varieties of grafted trees, and a little annual care, and within four years they begin to pay back an annual profit, which will increase annually for a life time.

Let's figure a little: Suppose you have only one quarter of a mile of public road—80 rods—running through the farm, and your road is or should be forty feet wide, and you plant your trees two rods apart on each side of the road in the fence corners, this gives you 80 trees; then plant 20 more trees around the house and barn, making 100 trees in all, costing $100. These trees, with good care, will gain 500 per cent on the investment every year for ten years, or even more, and at the end of ten years be worth $50

Horses Superseding Dogs In Transportation of Mail

SEATTLE, Wash, Oct. 25.—Horses are superseding dogs in the transportation of mails in Alaska. Just as the reindeer supplanted the Indian in the carrying of the Alaskan mails, the dogs are having to give way to the horse. A load of mail weighing not less than 2,000 pounds is often drawn over the frozen roads of Alaska by one horse attached to a sled. In a short time the Postoffice Department expects to make contracts for the transportation of mails in Alaska for the four years' period from July, 1910, to June 30, 1914. The department is striving to improve the Alaskan mail service. Under the prospective arrangement it is likely that three mails a year, instead of two, will be provided for Point Barrow, which is farther North than any other postoffice in the world. It is within the Arctic Circle, and is 11,000 miles from the large cities on the Atlantic coast of the United States.

The Alaskan mail routes are 150 miles to 650 miles long, and are traversed by the mail carriers from twice a week to twice a year. Sleds, usually drawn by dogs, do service as mail wagons; but where the old sled routes are giving away to roads the dogs are being replaced by horses.

JOHNSON MUST HAVE MET WITH FOUL PLAY

States That Nothing Had Occurred to Mar His Domestic Relations in Any Way.

News has been received here of the mysterious disappearance of C. C. Johnson, a white man who has for some time past resided in Gulf Hammock with his wife and children.

During last month a number of warrants were issued for parties in the Hammock charging them with having cut cedar upon Government lands, and it was suspected by a number that Johnson was instrumental in informing them, so it is stated that a plot must have been formed against the man for his destruction.

His wife states that he left the house on the 11th of the present month just before dinner, and stated that he would return in a short while, but nothing has since been learned of his whereabouts, and she thinks that he has met with foul play.

The fact that he disappeared almost following the serving of the warrants by Deputy Sheriff Richardson has led the citizens of his section to share the belief of his good wife that he has met with foul play.

Sheriff Walker and a number of deputies have made a most diligent search for the missing man but have been unable to find any clue that would throw light upon the case.

His wife states that his habits were of the best, and nothing had occurred in his domestic relations to cause him to leave in this manner. He was fairly well situated, living upon his own homestead and what spare time he had from his home he was engaged in cutting cedar for the many contractors who operate in that section.

WILL HAVE GRAND EVENT.

Tison Speaks Interestingly of Marion County Fair.

Mason Tison of Ocala is here on a short visit to his parents and in the meantime to tell his numerous friends about the great county fair to be held in that city from November 24 to 26.

He states that a purse of $2,000 has been raised for the races alone, while the prizes for farming products will be apportioned in such a manner that a great number of premiums will be awarded.

Some extra fine entries have already been made for the horse races, and this feature alone will attract many thousands of people to the Brick City. The interest manifested locally by the business houses and citizens was never before at such a pitch as at present, and he thinks the coming event will be one that will place Ocala and Marion county far up in the ranks as a farming section, and all who attend will be highly pleased and entertained during the three days of the fair.

BONNIE MELROSE.

MELROSE, Oct. 25.—A special meeting of Melrose Chapter No. 27, O. E. S., was held at the Masonic hall on Friday night on the occasion of the official visit of the Grand Matron, Mrs. O. D. Bruce, M. D., of Tampa. The meeting was well attended and one candidate was initiated. The next regular meeting will be on November 9th, at 7 p. m.

The cutting down of weeds and general cleaning up of the streets began Monday.

The Melrose-Waldo telephone line is being put in order and will be ready for use once more by the end of next week.

The Santa Fe Transportation Co. will put in a 'phone at H. Jackson's.

each, or $5,000—more perhaps than the balance of your farm. Does this look to you extravagant? Well, I can prove to you that it is true. Anything is worth the amount on which it will pay a profit of 10 per cent. It is quite common for a good grafted tree to produce forty pounds of nuts at 10 years old, and the best varieties never sell for less than 25 cents per pound, or $10 per tree, which would be 20 per cent on the above valuation.

Now, Brother Farmer, why not cut down some of the worthless trees along your roadways and around the house and barn, and plant some choice pecans? But you say it takes too long for them to come into bearing. The grafted trees begin to bear as quickly as a pear or apple tree. But others say, the business will be overdone and pecans will be worth nothing. Croakers said that about apples sixty years ago and yet apple orchards pay well today and apples sell higher now than they did then. Let us all plant pecans for shade trees.

Death of Little Lewis Cameron.

On October 21, 1909, little Lewis W. Cameron, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Cameron, died at his home in Boardman, Fla., after an illness of only a few days. He leaves to mourn his death a devoted father and mother and three little sisters, besides a large number of other relatives. The death of little Lewis cast a deep gloom over the entire community. To have known the deceased was to have loved him, for he scattered sunshine and made many friends wherever he went. He will be greatly missed not only by his immediate family but by every one who knew him. We extend to the broken hearted father and mother and each member of the family our most profound sympathy, and may the Supreme Ruler help them to bear their trouble. We feel that his passing was only falling asleep at Jesus' feet.

Rev. Wadell conducted the funeral service at the McIntosh Cemetery to await the call of his Savior on the resurrection morn. 'Tis glorious to go into the presence of God, where the Lord Jesus has reigned supreme in life. 'Tis consolation indeed to those who weep when they weep not as those who have no hope.

A place is vacant in their hearts,
A voice they loved is still;
A place is vacant in their home
Which never can be filled.

Call not back the dear departed,
Anchored safe where storms are o'er,
On the border land we left you,
Soon to meet and part no more.

When we leav this world of changes,
When we leave this world of care,
We shall find those gone before us
In our Father's mansion fair.

SURVEYING PARTY MOVED.

Camp Has Now Been Pitched Near Newberry for Present.

The Government surveying party under Harry L. Fisher, with Mr. Norris as draughtsman, and consisting of about twenty men, have moved their quarters from near Kanapaha to a point close to Newberry, in order to be more accessible to their line of work.

They are engaged in a survey that at present is being run from the mouth of the Ocklawaha river to the Old Suwannee river, and the proposed line crosses at a point near Kanapaha.

This survey is made by the Government in the interest of a ship canal which has been agitated considerably in the past number of years, and the reports will be made to the Government when the matter is finished.

The advantage of such a waterway through the center of the State would be of untold advantage to this section of the State. Besides it would prove a matter of great saving to the smaller craft and lessen the distance that is now traveled in order to cross from the Atlantic to the Gulf.

WILL ASK FOR APPROPRIATION.

Alderman Goodwin Believes That City Should Make One.

Alderman Goodwin stated to the reporter on Monday that he would at the next regular meeting of the City Council ask for an appropriation for emergency cases in the city.

He stated that the last two cases which were reported, one wherein an old white man had been allowed to die for want of attention, had caused considerable comment and he believed that with the question agitated as it was the council would readily make some provision in the matter.

During the course of a year there are very few urgent cases that are thrust upon the city, and he thinks that $500 would be a reasonable appropriation to set aside for the proper care and treatment of the unfortunates who are within the confines of the city.

We control three fruit, cold drink and confectionery stores in the city—every dollar paid up and no borrowed capital, and wish it distinctly understood we are running against the "Trust Buster Banana Store." More granolithic sidewalks are being laid on East Union street. Since the small space was put down for Benson & Son it seems as if it is in line for others to follow the example, with the result that fully one block is now being prepared for the laying of this popular sidewalk.

A NEW DAHLIA ROYAL PURPLE IN COLOR.

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 25.—After fifteen years of experimenting, during which time he met with many failures, Albert E. Johnson, a Bay State business man, has raised a new dahlia royal purple in color, and of such exquisite shape as to be hailed by floriculturists as the queen of all dahlias. The only reward he seeks is to be permitted to name the new flower after Mrs. Taft, and he now awaits the reply from the summer White House, where he sent several of the best specimens by special messenger. Raising dahlias is Johnson's hobby. A grocer by occupation, he is a florist by choice, and within the past fifteen years he has succeeded in producing various new specimens of his favorite flower. But none of these ever equaled his royal purple dahlia.

THE DAILY SUN,
Gainesville, Florida.

One half of the world doesn't know how the other half lives. Those who read The Sun know all that is worth knowing about both halves.

Use of such familiar epithets as liar, thief, demagogue and briber suggests that London bye-election campaigners have carefully studied the language of American politicians.

We are in receipt of the first issue of Florida, John C. Trice's new weekly published at Tallahassee. Mr. Trice is one of the ablest writers in the State and The Sun welcomes his return to the profession.

The replies to The Philadelphia Times' query, "what would you do if you had a million dollars?" have doubtless a theoretical value. But in practice, what a man does when he has a million is to set about getting another one.

"Once I could go out on the streets and know every person I passed, but now I scarcely know half the people I meet," remarked an old citizen of Gainesville to the editor yesterday. Same here, brother. Which shows that GAINESVILLE IS GROWING.

Very few people will commend the course of the Governor of Nebraska in attacking the integrity of the court that pronounced the Nebraska bank guaranty law unconstitutional. Denouncing courts for deciding cases according to the law, and not according to the will of those in power, should receive little sympathy with the American people.

With all due respect to the officials of the Seaboard railway, we do not consider that they have shown much appreciation of the patronage accorded them by the people of this city in the erection of the depot building now nearing completion. It has some conveniences in the way of toilets, etc., that the old one did not have, but inasmuch as they had to erect a new passenger depot building it does seem that they would have erected one more creditable to the system. The building now nearing completion would scarcely be a credit to a town of five hundred inhabitants, much less one of eight thousand.

The Times-Union waxes sarcastic when it intimates that if all that is necessary to prepare the Everglade lands for cultivation is to burn off the grass, now is a good time to do the burning. It would puzzle a Holland Dutchman to find a spear of grass above water to burn, even if the sapient advice was at all practicable. —Miami News-Record. The present would also be a good time for the "suckers" who have bought lands in the Everglades through the beautifully illustrated pamphlets showing handsome residences surrounded by orange groves and sugar plantations, to visit the 'Glades and take soundings as to the depth of water covering their purchases. Former Governor Broward, who has been conducting parties from the West over portions of the 'Glades during the drought, could no doubt show them approximately where their holdings are located.

MR. FLAGLER'S GENEROSITY.

(Ocala Banner.)

"One touch of nature makes the whole world kin," was the exclamation of the immortal bard. And how true that is. How quick we are to weep with those that weep and rejoice with those that rejoice.

In Ocala's great conflagration we lost printing office and home, and we remember until this day the kindnesses we received from wholly unexpected sources.

An almost universal opinion obtained that Jay Gould was a purely sordid man and nothing could separate him from his dollars, but when Memphis, Tenn., was afflicted with a great scourge he telegraphed the mayor to draw on him for $5,000 a day as long as the afflicted city needed a dollar.

So far as we were concerned all the mean things said about Jay Gould immediately took wings and flew away! No amount of argument could make us believe that he had a bad heart, and we believe that Helen Gould inherited her generosity from her father.

It did not take the calamity that has befallen Key West to show the kindness of Mr. Flagler's heart, and the bigness of his soul, because both have been shown many times before, but it does one good to see that he is never happier than when lifting all forms of distress.

From the effects of the great storm that recently visited our coast he was by long odds the biggest sufferer. He lost not only in dollars and cents, but the great work that he is so anxious to see completed has been retarded, and it will be months longer in its completion. Yet in the face of his own calamities he wires to George W. Allen the following dispatch:

"Please present an appreciation of my sincere sympathy to Mayor Fogarty and the officials of Key West, and draw on me at sight for funds to relieve suffering there."

It will be seen that he places no limit to the amount—or, rather, it is only limited by the amount of suffering.

In addition to the above dispatch he also sent the following:

"Hon. Geo. W. Allen: Mr. H. Walters (Atlantic Coast Line) joins me in authorizing P. & O. to transport from Port Tampa and Miami free of charge supplies necessary to relieve suffering in Key West. H. M. Flagler."

He also wired the officials of the Florida East Coast line to transport all supplies for the sufferers, whether on the mainland or keys, free.

Few men ever lived with a bigger heart and bigger soul than Henry M. Flagler, and it takes calamities like that which has just overtaken Key West to sound their great depths.

We are sincerely glad that this generation has given birth to such men, for we know that the world will be blessed by their example.

A man who had existed for several years without The Sun was induced to subscribe for six months. Saturday last he called at the office to renew before the expiration of his subscription expired, when he remarked: "Gracious, it makes me feel queer to think what must have happened that I didn't know about when I was doing without The Sun. It was like a trance, or a delirium. I guess I was a dead one."

The Palatka News expresses the opinion that Senator Taliaferro will not be a candidate for re-election. The Sun will wager a year's subscription that Brother Russell will soon discern that the Senator is very much a candidate.

TRIBUTE TO J. O. LAFONTISEE.

A high tribute to the work of the late John O. LaFontisee of Jacksonville, who, with Asa L. Brower, conducted the Government's thoroughgoing study of the naval stores industry last year, was paid by R. S. Kellogg, Assistant Forester in charge of Forest Statistics of the United States Forest Service, in his speech at the Annual Convention of Turpentine Operators' Association in Jacksonville on Wednesday of last week. Assistant Forester Kellogg said:

"Another step toward increasing our knowledge of the naval stores industry was taken when, at the instance of Senator Taliaferro, the Agricultural Appropriation Bill for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1908, provided $10,000 for an inquiry into the destruction of forests by the production of turpentine and rosin and the sources and methods of the industry.

"To carry out the provisions of Senator Taliaferro's amendment the Forest Service detailed to the work Mr. John O. LaFontisee of Jacksonville, and Mr. Asa L. Brower, a graduate of the School of Forestry of the University of Michigan. With Mr. LaFontisee's energy and sterling qualities you were acquainted even better than were we in the Forest Service. We who worked with him sincerely regret with you his untimely death, and we both realize full well the real loss which it brought to the naval stores industry.

"Mr. LaFontisee and Mr. Brower traveled through every part of the South gathering statistics of production, and making a careful study of the long leaf pine forests. The facts which they secured and the conclusions which they reached give most valuable information upon the present status of the industry."

What a pity samples of Gainesville weather of the past week cannot be distributed as advertising.

AVOID HARSH DRUGS

Many Cathartics Tend to Cause Injury to the Bowels.

If you are subject to constipation you should avoid strong drugs and cathartics. They only give temporary relief and their reaction is harmful and sometimes more annoying than constipation. They in no way effect a cure and their tendency is to weaken the already weak organs with which they come in contact.

We honestly believe that we have the best constipation treatment ever devised. Our faith in it is so strong that we sell it on the positive guarantee that it shall not cost the user a cent if it does not give entire satisfaction and completely remedy constipation. This preparation is called Rexall Orderlies. These are prompt soothing and most effective in action. They are made of a recent chemical discovery. Their principal ingredient is odorless, tasteless and colorless. Combined with other well-known ingredients, long established for their usefulness in the treatment of constipation, it forms a tablet which is eaten just like candy. They may be taken at any time, either day or night, without fear of their causing any inconvenience whatever. They do not gripe, purge nor cause nausea. They act without causing any pain or excessive looseness of the bowels. They are ideal for children, weak, delicate persons and aged people as well as for the most hearty person.

They come in two size packages, 12 tablets 10 cents, 36 tablets 25 cents. Remember you can obtain them only at our store—The Rexall Store. J. W. McCollum & Co., corner East Main and Union streets.

Work on the San Carlos, Pensacola's new hotel which is under way of construction, is progressing fine and the contractor hopes to have it finished by the middle of January or first of February.

St. Petersburg now has a full-fleged automobile club, and the membership is large and enthusiastic. They propose to make the influence of the organization felt in the securing of good roads in that section.

A. G. Munn, the beloved founder of Lakeland, died in Louisville, Ky., last Wednesday, and the entire town is grieved. There is much talk in Lakeland of erecting a fitting monument to his memory in Munn Park.

W. B. Swearington of Bartow, in behalf of the owners, has offered the use of the buildings of the court house and the South Florida Military Institute to cigar manufacturers who will go there and locate factories. This offer will no doubt be taken up at once.

For the first time in many months the stand pipe in Madison is filled to overflowing. The cause of this is that the new well recently put down by the Electric Power Company has been connected to the pumps and a flow of more than three hundred gallons per minute has been turned into the mains and the standpipe.

Imperfect Digestion.

Means less nutrition and in consequence less vitality. When the liver fails to secrete bile, the blood becomes loaded with bilious properties, the digestion becomes impaired and the bowels constipated. Herbine will rectify this; it gives tone to the stomach, liver and kidneys, strengthens the appetite, clears and improves the complexion, infuses new life and vigor to the whole system. 50 cents a bottle. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Spencer's "First Principles."

In Spencer's "First Principles" he endeavors to define the fields of the unknowable and the knowable and the postulates with which the studies of the knowable must be pursued. When Spencer writes that "the man of science truly knows that in its ultimate essence nothing can be known," he is not referring to man's brain yesterday or today. He means that the fundamental principles of the universe, like space, time, matter, force and motion, are by their very nature unknowable. Since all man's knowledge of the cosmos can be traced back ultimately to sense experience, and since sense experience is not always reliable and much of what he calls the ultimate essence is entirely inaccessible to sense experience, it may be philosophically said that man cannot be sure he really knows anything. Both the strength and the weakness of his theory are due to the equivocal import of the term "knowledge."—New York American.

COLORED PEOPLE ASK THEIR RACE FOR AID

NEGROES ARE IN GREAT DISTRESS IN KEY WEST.

Members of the Colored Race in This City Should Respond to Their Appeal.

KEY WEST, Fla., October 25.—Editor Sun: At a special thanksgiving service held at Cornish chapel, A. M. E. Zion church, on last Thursday afternoon and evening for the purpose of thanking God for the preservation of our lives from the recent hurricane, after listening to two able sermons by Rev. W. W. Blair, pastor of Cornish chapel in the afternoon, and by Rev. F. H. Faulk, pastor of St. James Missionary Baptist church, in the evening, a relief committee was appointed as auxiliary to the white relief committee to look after the unfortunate colored people. A SUCCESSFUL CROP.

Samuel Shaw Tells How to Plant and Cultivate Crop.

Editor Sun; Since I have won one of the prizes in your corn contest and you were kind enough to publish my letter and I am receiving letters of inquiry every day, I have decided to answer through The Sun.

In the first place, I will try and give my experience in growing corn. First you should break your land early, six to eight inches deep, with a turn plow, turning under all vegetable matter. Never burn your land; always plow in all the trash you have, and if your land won't produce grass and weeds, sow peas or velvet beans, for land won't do its best without humus.

Second, harrow your land with disk harrow in February, and just before you plant run over it with Acme harrow. Make rows six feet apart, open with seven or eight-inch shovel; if upland drop your seed two and a half feet apart and just use dirt enough to cover it, and leave furrow open. If low land, fill furrow two-thirds full of dirt, and drop corn; then fill furrow up with two furrows. If you are going to fertilize, plant thicker in drill, according to the amount of fertilizer you intend to use. Now we have the crop planted, the first step is to run one furrow in the middle of rows with a 22-inch wing sweep; next, side the corn with the bar side of the turning shovel, close, so as to shove some dirt to corn. Next take a sweep that will fit the bearing furrows and side close. A good hand will clean the drill and do away with the hoeing all together. Now we are ready for the plowing, which makes the crop. Use a No. 8 turning shovel with wing to corn, and be sure to lap the dirt over the drill and plow out the middle with same plow. If you fertilize corn you should put it sweep furrow ahead of this plowing. Never use it at time of planting. Next use 22 or 24-inch wing sweeps, as shallow as you can, not over one inch deep, four furrows to row, and your work is done. You should sow one-half bushel of fall peas per acre ahead of this plowing.

The claim I make for my corn I proved good for twenty-five years, and I don't see why it should not suit the general conditions all over the State. I will sell what seed I have at 75 cents per peck, or $2.50 per bushel.

Women Suffer Agonies from Diseased Kidneys

And Most Women Do This Not Knowing the Real Cause of their Condition

These poor, suffering women have been led to believe that their misery of mind and body is entirely due to "ills of their sex." Usually the kidneys and bladder are responsible—or largely so. And in such cases, the kidneys and bladder are the organs, that need and must have attention.

Those torturing, enervating sick headaches, dragging pains in back, groin and limbs, bloating and swelling of the extremities, extreme nervousness or hysteria, listlessness and constant tired, worn-out feeling—are almost certain symptoms of disordered and diseased kidneys, bladder and liver.

DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills have, in thousands of cases, been demonstrated as remarkably beneficial in all such conditions of female organism—affording the most prompt relief and permanent benefit.

As an illustration of what these Pills will do, Mrs. P. M. Bray of Columbus, Ga., writes that she was very ill with kidney trouble, and that she is now well—and that these Pills are what cured her.

They are very pleasant to take, and can in no case, produce any deleterious effects upon the system—as syrupy, alcoholic, liquid preparations are apt to do.

E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill., want every man and woman who have the least suspicion that they are afflicted with kidney and bladder diseases to at once write them, and a trial box of these Pills will be sent free by return mail postpaid. Do it to-day.

ADVERTISE IN THE SUN There's a Reason.

GAINESVILLE,

University City.

Gainesville is conceded to be the nest enterprising as well as the most beautiful city in the interior of Florida. It is located in the very center of the State, half way between the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts, surrounded by lands of such fertility as to be capable of producing a great variety of crops; in the heart of the truck-growing phosphate and naval stores belt. She has the best educational advantages in the State, good churches, with edifices which are superior to any town of its size in Florida, with large and consistent congregations; has a climate which cannot be excelled for health and pleasure. All these natural advantages, combined with a progressive and enterprising cosmopolitan citizenship, are sure to make a big city.

There are many natural attractions in close proximity to the city, some of which are Alachua Sink, Paine's Prairie, the Devil's Mill Hopper, Warren's Cave, and Lake Newnan, all of which are reached by private conveyance

Spring Park Stock Farm, the largest and finest live stock farm in the State, is only eight miles west of the city and is reached by a good hard road affording a most pleasant drive.

The farmers of Alachua county, of which Gainesville is the county seat "live at home and board at the same place." The temperature is very uniform, scarcely ever reaching the nineties in summer or the twenties in winter. The population of Gainesville is about eight thousand, representing nearly every nationality on the face of the earth, and strangers always meet with a hearty welcome.

The University of Florida for young men and the National Agricultural Experiment Station are located within the corporate limits of the city. In fact, Gainesville has so many things that we must be pardoned if we omit a few of them in the following enumeration of what

TALKS ON ADVERTISING—NO. 5

How Alexander Untied the Knot.

By Herbert Kaufman.

Alexander the Great was being shown the Gordian Knot. "It can't be untied," they told him; "every man who tried to do it fell down."

But Alexander was not discouraged because the rest had flunked. He simply realized that he would have to go at it in a different way. And instead of wasting time with his fingers he drew his sword and slashed it apart.

Every day a great business general is shown some knot which has proven too much for his competitors, and he succeeds because he finds a way to cut it. The fumbler has no show so long as there is a brother merchant who doesn't waste time trying to accomplish the impossible—who takes lessons from the failures about him and avoids the methods which were their downfall.

The knottiest problems in trade are:

1—The problem of location.
2—The problem of getting the crowds.
3—The problem of keeping the crowds.
4—The problem of minimizing fixed expenses.
5—The problem of creating a valuable good will.

None of these knots is going to be untied by fumbling fingers. They are too complicated. They're all involved together—twisted and entangled over and about each other—so intertwined that they can't be solved singly—like the Gordian Knot they must be cut through at one stroke. And you can't cut the knot with any sword except the newspaper—because:

1—A store that is constantly before the people makes its own neighborhood.

2—Crowds can be brought from anywhere by daily advertising.

3—Customers can always be held by inducements.

4—Fixed expenses can only be reduced by increasing the volume of sales.

5—Good will can only be created through publicity.

Advertising is breeding new giants every year and making them more powerful every hour. Publicity is the sustaining food of a powerful store and the only strengthening nourishment for a weak one. The retailer who delays his entry into advertising must pay the penalty of his procrastination by facing more giant competitors as every month of opportunity slips by.

Personal ability as a close purchaser and as a clever seller doesn't count for a hang so long as other men are equally well posted and wear the sword of publicity to boot. They are able to tie your business into constantly closer knots, while you cannot retaliate because there is no knot which their advertising cannot cut for them.

Yesterday you lost a customer—today they took one—tomorrow they'll get another. You cannot cope with their competition because you haven't the weapon with which to oppose it. You can't untie your Gordian Knot because it can't be untied—you've got to cut it.

You must become an advertiser or you must pay the penalty of incompetence.

You not only require the newspaper to fight for a more hopeful tomorrow, but to keep today's situation from becoming hopeless.

(Copyright, 1909, by Trinune Company, Chicago.)

"That Which Is Worth Having Is Worth Advertising For"

The old adage that what is worth having is worth asking for is still true—true of the more intricate life of today.

The thing you want—whether it is a used piano or a home, whether it is a ready-made business or a lost pocketbook—is obtained readily through advertising, and with difficulty, or not at all, through other means.
